

Effects on Historical Transactions from Changing a Line Item Code's GL Account

Last Modified on 06/07/2018 7:22 pm EDT

Question

When I change a line item code's GL Account assignment, does it automatically reassign the GL Account to historical transactions involving that line item code record?

Answer

No, historical transaction are not affected when you change a line item code's GL Account assignment. The change only affects new transactions going forward.

However, you can manually reassign historical transactions to a different GL Account.
